Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been linhe to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been more distressingly afflicted with its symptome, then within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, esense of weight in the stomach, and severe pains in the left aide, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortunately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in tess than two weeks, imligestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left inse, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully resured. To me the cure seamed almost misculous, and my object in writing to you is—a hope that other persons suffering the miscries of Dyspepeia will avail the miscries of Dyspepeia will avail the miscries of the proposed of the cure will am, dear air, yours truly.

janl1 dtf 74 Fourth street. An Editor in Heaven .- An exchange, under the above head, makes some feeling comments upon the demise of a contemporary. He does not seem to doubt but that the editor went straight to Heaven. Our experience tells us that the simile of the difficulty attendant upon a camel's going through the eye of a needle, etc., would apply with equal force to most of the editorial traternity in this section; but hear him: Are we not also glad that such an editor is in Heaven? There the cry of "more copy" shall never again fall upon his distracted ears. There he will no more be abused by his political antagonists, with lies and detraction that should shame a demon to promulgate. There, he shall be no more used as a ladder for the aspiring to kick down as soon as they reach the desired height, and need him no more. There, he shall be able to see the immense masses of mind he has moved, all unknowingly and unknown as he has been; during his weary pilgrimage on earth. There he will find all his articles credited, not a peal of his thunder stolen and there shall be no

Counsel to BE REMEMBERED .- The following from the Nashville Union, although calculated for Tennussee, may be applied with advantage to any meridian in the Union:

We have not besitated frankly and plainly to tell onr political friends that while, for Governor, a nomination by a Democratic Convention is equivalent to an election by the people, yet the Legislature may be lost by the loss of a single Democratic county. We have the strength to secure both houses, if we do not permit ambitious aspirants, thinking more of personal aggrandize us A good Democrat will submit to injustice sooner than risk the defeat of his party. He will act out the patriotic saying of the revolutionary father, "It is no time to indulge private griefs when the enemy is in front!" We are senre of a majority when, and only when, the policy is recognized and acted up, that, in cases of rivalry for the candidacy for political offices, the party in convention is to be the final judge in the matter. An experience of near twenty years in party contests in Tennessee enables us to say that our principles would have been represented by a Democratic Legislature four-fifths of the time since 1837, but for merc personal conflicts. Men and brethren! we must not suffer such conflicts in 1857.

[Frem the St. Joseph Commercial Cycle, Dec THE FORGERIES OF E. C. DAVIS-STARTLING REVELATION .- A most painful duty has been imposed upon us by the strange and unascountable aberration of one who has been long and prominently associated with this paper, and who at this time occupies a distinguished position in the State, and whose term is just upon the eve of expiration as Superintendent of Common Schools. The revelation came upon us suddenly, chilling-

We inquired into it, and learned that which is painful in itself, painful to all parties interested, and painful for us to relate; but which justice to our patrons and ourselves requires us fully to expose.

Some several weeks ago, Mr. France was call-until yesterday.

In the beginning of this month, Mr. E. C. Davis stated that he would have to go to Jefferson City to settle up his affairs as Superintendent of Common Schools, and desired the present protem, editor to act in this caracity until his re-We at once took charge; but Mr. D. did not get off until last Sunday week, the 14th inst He took the stage on that morning for Jefferson City. Everything moved on smoothly until about 12 M., on Wednesday the 24th, when, as inquiry, was that he had attachments against E There was an unusually large number of securities from several of our bankers and primoney; that when Mr. Irvine gave the informa-tion, every person who had discounted paper for Davis made a speedy examination of it, and although they bore the names of several of onr best citizens, both in town and country, with whom Davis had been most intimate, in every instance they were forgeries.

This anthorized the issuance and levy of the attachments upon Davis' interest in the establishment but we rather think the officer transcended his anthority, in stopping the press of M. France

We are, however, so horrified at the revelation. that no more work, in any event, could have been done that evening. Mr. France had, fortu-nately, reached the residence of his brother, Dr. France, six miles from the city, and was immediately sent for. Notwithstanding he was still suffering from a slight indisposition, he came to town yesterday, and had the cetablishment re-

In addition, we, perhaps, ought to state that the principal pecuniary sufferers by these startling crimes, are A. Battie and J. Corbie, bankers; the St. Josephs Savings Bank; Mr. John Breckenridge, and Mr. W. M. Carter. But what are the sufferings for a depleted purse in com-parison with those of a lacerated heart? The greatest sufferers are at his home—by his own fireside, which he should have been ever vigilant to guard against all suffering.

Mr. Corble and Mr. Deputy Sheriff Morgan started in pursuit of Davis on Wednesday even

This is all at present, but the strangest part of all this strange affair is, that these forgeries have been going on for the past two years without discovery, or even anapicion.

About 10 o'clock the squall struck us, and I all over; I could feel the masts bending. The helm was put up, and we drove before it; I was soon up, dressed and on deck, for the scene was sublime. The lightning was vivid and incessant, but the wind drowned the voice of the thunder. The sea around was white as milk, and although we had scarcely any sail ou, we drove along at twelve miles an hour. No damage was done, however. The captain took the deck, and gave his commands in a clear, quick voice.

There is now no doubt that camela can be safely transported to the United States, and that they are most useful animals no one can dispute. They can bear extremes of heat and cold, are ong lived, and are economical as regards food. Those on board the Supply are fine specimens, selected with care; one is an enormous fellow, Bactrian, and weighs from 1.800 to 2.000 During a storm the camels are straped down on their knees, in which position they have had to remain as long as seven days. When released from their fastenings, they rise with alacrity, and seem none the worse for it. MEDIING OF GEN. JACKSON AND J. Q. ADAMS T PRESIDENT MONAGE'S LEVEE.—The following account of the rencontre between General Jackson and John Q. Adams, at President Monroe's levee the night after Adams' election over Jackson for the Presidency, by the House of Representatives, is taken from Peter Parley's "Recolections of his Lifetime:"

"I shall pass over other individuals present. only noticing an incident who respects the two persons in the assembly who most of all others engrossed the thoughts of the visitors-Mr. Adams the elect, Gen. Jackson the defeated. It chanced, in the course of the evening, that these two persons, involved in the throng, approached each other from the opposite directions, yet without knowing it. Suddenly, as they were almost together, the persons around, seeing what was happen, by a sort of instinct, stepped aside and left them face to face. Mr. Adams was by himself; General Jackson had a large, handsome lady on his arm. They looked at each other for a moment, and then General Jackson moved forward, and reaching ont his long arm, said— 'How do you do, Mr. Adams? I give you my left hand, for the right, you see, is devoted to the fari; I hope you are very well, sir.' All this was gallantly and heartily said and done. Mr. Adams took the General's hand, and said with chilling coldness-'very well, sir: I hope General Jackson is well!

It was curious to see the western planter, the indian fighter, the stern soldier, who had written his country's glory in the blood of the ene my at New Orleans-genial and gracions in the It was all the more remarkable from the fact that, four hours before, the former had been defeated, and the latter was a victor in a struggle for one of the highest objects of human ambition. The personal character of these two individuals was ln fast well expressed in that chance meeting; the gallantry, the frankness and the heartiness of the one, which captivated all; the coldness, the distance, the self-concentration of the other which repelled all. A somewhat severe, but still acute analyst of Mr. Adam's character, says: "Undoubtedly, one great reason of his unpopularity, was his cold and antipathetic manner, and the suspicion of a selfishness it suggested, or at least added greatly to None approached Mr. Adams but to recede. He never succeeded—he never tried to

I recollect an anecdote somewhat illustrative When he was a candidate for the Presidency, his political friends thought it advisable that he should attend a cattle show at Worcester, Mass., so as to conciliate the numbers of in fluential men who might be present. Accordingly he went and while there many persons were introduced to him, and among the rest a farmer of the vicinity—a man of substance and great respectability. On being presented

"Mr. Adams, I am very glad to see you. My wife, when she was a gal, lived in your father's family; you were then a little boy, and she told me a great deal about you. She has very often 'Well," said Mr. Adams, in his harsh way-

"I suppose she combs your head now!" The poor farmer slunk back like a lashed bound, feelng the smart, but utterly unconscious of the

[From the Washington Star, January 3.] Mr. Benton and the Ladies .- Mr. Benton was as much in error in saying that the word lady was not used by him in the Thirty Year's View, as in saying it is not in the Bible. The following references to his work sufficiently show this. The matter is of no kind of importance, except as showing Mr. Benton's want of accuracy in stating a plain and easily to be ascertaized mat-

A modified slave trade is already carried on from Boston as well as from New York, but not at all from Charleston, or any other Sonthern port. We allude to traffic in Chinese coolies, who being comparatively white, their enslavement, under various forms of imposition, is all right, as estimated by Northern capidity. So far as the African slave trade is carried on from Northern ports, it is done by foreigners, who skulk from public ob-servation; but the coolie slave trade is conducted openly and largely by Yankees.

CITY COURT.

Monday, January 12. Polly Grimes, who was mentioned in the Times having stolen a golden watch, refused to tell her name, and the case being fully proven swer a charge of felony. She was taken to prison with great difficulty, two policemen having to pick her up and carry her out by main force. John Quinu, for breach of ordinance. Case heard and dismissed at his cost.

NARROW ESCAPE .- Dr. B. F. Kidd, of this city was over the river last Thursday, turkey hunting. Whilst he was standing in a thicket of young cane about as high as his head, calling with a reed, another huntsman mistook his yelp for that of a turkey, and creeping upon him, shot at him with a rifle, the reed between the Doctor's mouth and his hand, cutting it in twain. A miss is said to be as good as a mile, but this was so close a miss that it spoiled turkey hnuting with both the Dector and the man who shot at him. After a satisfactory explanation, they both left for home, not knowing which was the most rejoiced at the happy caution to turkey hunters .- Paducah Democrat

ECLIPSE IN 1857 .- There will be two eclipses ble year, both of the sun. The first will occur on the 25th of March. It will be invisible in all that part of the United States east of the meridian of Washington, and partial and visible west of Washington. The second is an annual eclipse of the snn, which will commence on the 17th of September, at midnight in the United States, and therefore invisible in this country. It will be visible in a larger portion of Asia, a part of Africa, and the whole of Australia.

A MARRIAGE IN THE CARS .- In the cars, be tween Bangor and Portland, an Incedent occur-red on Saturday morning, a little ont of the usual course. Soon after the train left Bangor, the conductor, Mr. Pittman, who had provided hlmself with a clergyman, stood up in one of the cars, and, in the presence of the passengers, and while the train was at its usual speed, was duly married to a lady by the name of Fuller. The approaching conference at Paris, the diffiulties pending between Prussia and Switzerand, and war between Persia and Great Britain ontinue to be the main items of interest. No day has yet been fixed for the reassembling of the Congress at Paris. Some preliminary business has yet to be got through with, but it is anticipated that the day of meeting is not far distant. A preliminary meeting will probably be held within a few days.

A statement is made in the London Times that England and France are now agreed on the points of discussion with Russia. No topics are o be introduced but those relating to Belgrade and the Isle of Serpeuts. All the plenipoteutia-ries, including the Turkish minister, have received their Instructions

Prussia continues her preparations for the inasiou of Switzerland, and the latter for defeuce but there exists a bejief that the l'owers will prevent actual hostilities. It is is rumored England has agreed to mediate between Prussla and Switzerland, but the report is doubtful. It is stated that the negotiations between the British minister at Constantinople and the Perslan envoy have been broken off. The latter is proceeding to Paris, and in the mean time has requested further instructions from his govern-

Great Britain demands the evacuation of Herat, the payment of the expenses of the dismissal of the Prime Minister, and the establishment of British consulates in various places.

Persia is reported to have assented to the reurn of Mr. Murray, the Euglish Minister, to restore Herat, and to compensate its citizens for dsmages, but the other points are in abeyance. Nothing later has been received in relation to he progress of hostilities. The ship Lillian, for Savanuah, was struck by ightning on the 24th while lying in dock ready to sail. Her cabin was burned. Advices from Coustautiuople to the 18th ult. eached Paris on Thursday. Ferat Hahu, the Persian Envoy, was to leave Constantinople for Paris on the next day.

Negotiatious with Lord Stratforp de Redeliffe

aving failed, Redchild Pacha has recommended 'ersia to yield to England. We have contradictory rumors respecting the osition of England on the Neufchatel question one has it that England has always supported the claims of Prussia; another says that that sup-port has been offered only lately, and that the Swiss authorities could not sufficiently express their astonishment at the change in the language of the English Representatives at Berne; a third report aunounces the proposal of the United States for a collective mediation; a fourth rumor says England has simply offered a mediation and that Switzerland, which has refused that of 'rauce, has accepted it.

It states that a commission, composed of several officers, had been sent from the Russian head-quarters to visit Mazanderan, a province in Persia adjoining the Caspian Sea, in order to recou noitre various passages for troops and draw topo-graphical plans. It appears that, in the event of serious hostilities taking place between England and Persia, Mazanderen will be a very important strategic point. Troops will be concentrated at and that of Komis will be strougly guarded this point, and the defiles of the Caspian gates The substance of the instructions received by the peace congress are views that Boledigad and the Isle of Serpents be reliuquished to Russia; that a full and complete fulfilment of the treaty of Paris for the organization of the Danubian Principalities he required; and also the earliest ossible settlement of the Tnrco-Russian frontiers of Asia.

The ship Cauvassback, from Ballimore, has ar rived at Queeustown.

London, Dec. 27.—The Berliu journals hold an uncompromising bellicose tone and contradict rumors of mediation. At present there is no hope of a pacific termination of the affair.

Berlin, Dec. 26 .- A note bearing the signatures of a protocol of London, excepting Prussis. has been addressed to the Federal Council o Switzerland, demanding the liberation of the royalist insurrectionists. Prussia hopes that this general expression of the powers will terminate Paris, Dec. 26 .- The Swiss police on guard in House.—Mr. Stantou, under a suspension of the rules, offered a resolution instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of reorganizing the circuits and districts of the United States in such a manuer as to equalize the population and business of the several circuits and districts, and give to all sections of the Confederacy their qual and just representation in the U. Mr. Stantou showed the inequality now existing and urged the importance of such a reform on the ground that all sectious should have a just and fair judicial representation in the Sureme Court.

Mr. Keitt inquired whether, if the Supreme Court should pronounce the fugitive slave law constitutional, the gentleman would carry it Mr. Stanton replied that if the Court should decide that Dred Scott is a slave, he would acquiesce in its decision, but he would not, in obe-dience to the Court, renounce his opinion as to the fugitive slave law.

The resolution passed. Mr. Benson reported back the Senate bill amendatory of an act to promote the efficiency of the Navy, which provides for the restoration of such dropped furloughed, or retired officers as may be favorably reported on through the Courts of Inquiry provided the finding he ap-proved by the President.

Passed the bill without amendment-159 Orr from the select committee to examine the alleged combination among members, reported a resolution enlarging the field of their enquiry from the commencement of the present Congress, instead of confining them to measures now pen-ding, and asking that they be empowered to em-loy a clerk. Resolution adopted.

Mr. Savage moved a suspension of the rules in order to enable him to introduce a resolution making the bill pensioning soldiers of the war of 1812, the special order for the first Tuesday in February. Disagreed—102 against 85. n February.

. WASRINGTON, Jan. 12. The committee on tarritories have prepared a report adverse to the petition of the citizens of Carson Valley asking for the annexation of that portion of Utah territory to California. the reasons for the refusal, is, that California is too large already and would be made more unwieldy hydrauch au extension of its boundaries. The committee believe that some measure of wi-der scope is necessary to cure the evils of which orthon oppression, and accordingly reco the passage of a bill now on the calendar, for the prevention and punishment of bigamy. This they add, would remove the moral and political pestilence which makes Utah the scandal of the American people.

The committee on ierritories have also prepar ed an unfavorable report on the petition for organization of the territorial government of Arrisona lu the Gadsden purchase. From statements made to the committee it appears that there are from eight to ten 'housand inhabitanta therein, and the lowest estimates makes two to three th usand. Taking the medium there are from five to seven thousand white inhabitants and this number is deemed too small for a separate government and will not warrant the large expenditures necessary for that purpose, especieconomical way. In lien thereof, the committee REGULAR UNITED STATES MAIL LINE. intend reporting a bill establishing a judicial district south of the Gila, creating the office of Surveyor General, providing for the adjudication of certain land claims, granting donations of land to actual set tlers, and providing for representation in the Legislature of New Mexico. This is all the redress the case requires in the opinion f the committee.

The House committee on elections will report in favor of Hall of Iowa, whose seat is contested by Curtis, Republican.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. In addition to the information communicated in Friday's dispatch relative to the contemplated illegal occupation of certain Shawnee Indian lands by large bands of organized whites, it is believed that before now the Executive of Kan-sas has, in consequence of his anggestive representations to the Administration, ocen invested with full anthority in the premises, even to the employment of milltary, should a fair warning to the intruders prove unavailing. POSITIVELY AT COST, And no Humbug! DWING to a deraugement of hey permany affairs, caused by sickness and tong absence from business, it one become necessary for me in adopt some means or the atom of money by a specified time.

With this view t have determined to offer my goods to customers at COST, which is far below the regular price, and I will continue to make calce of that reduction for a few days outs. and I will continue to make ealer at that reduction for a few days only.

I have availed myself of the best markets in Europe and this country in the purchase of mysiock of WATCH ES, JEWELKY, &c., and some quently have bought the best goods at the lowest prices, and will sail them correspondingly low. My repunition in this community for a long term for fail dealing and general integrity, I trust, will awart any suspicion as to my motives in thus sfaling my goods at cost.
